

Legal Matters: It is the Holidays and I Feel that My Relationship is Over. Can Anyone Help Me?

Dec. 31, 2014

“It was the best of times. It was the worst of times.” The element that makes the holiday period so special- the close continuous contact with family- is precisely the factor which makes the holidays so miserable when a relationship is off the rails. Informed decision making- having a plan, and making smart decisions about an exit strategy- can make a huge difference in your emotional and financial cost. Help is out there- Shank Law has three experienced family lawyers who can answer your questions and help you develop a custom plan built just for your individual needs and concerns. Enjoy your holidays safely. If you need us, we’re here for you. Wishing you and those you love a safe and prosperous 2015.

Your friends at Shank Law.